COMPLAINTS

If you have any complaints about any aspect of your application to obtain access to your health records, you should first discuss this with the Practice.

All complaints will be acknowledged within three working days and a full response will be provided within 21 working days. If a complaint is made verbally to the practice, this will be documented and you will be asked to confirm in writing that you agree with what has been recorded.

If this proves unsuccessful, you can make a complaint through the NHS Complaints Procedure.

Further information about the NHS Complaints Procedure is available on the NHS Choices website.

SUBJECT ACCESS REQUESTS

Introduction
The General Data Protection Act gives every living person (or authorised representative) the right to apply for access to their health records.

Online Access to Medical Records
As of March 2016, [Coded information from Medical Records / Full Medical Records] can be accessed as part of the Practice’s online services. For security reasons, you will have to visit the practice to undertake an identity check before you are granted access to these records.

Costs
Under the General Data Protection Act you will not normally be charged a fee to view your health records or to be provided with a copy of them unless the request is judged to be unfounded or excessive. The fee incurred will be based on the administrative cost of providing the information.

Once the data controller (Practice) has all the required information, and fee where relevant, your request should be fulfilled within one month.

In exceptional circumstances it may not be possible to comply with this time period. If this is the case you will be informed of the delay within one month of the request. We will provide you with a timescale of when the information will be made available, which will be no more than three months after the request was made).

To make a subject access request
A request for your medical health records held at Rothwell & Desborough Healthcare Group must be made in writing to the Practice

You can apply using an Application for Access to Medical Records Form available from reception or via our website www.rdhg.co.uk

Exemptions
In some circumstances, the Act permits the data controller to withhold information held in your health record. These rare cases are:

• Where it has been judged that supplying you with the information is likely to cause serious harm to the physical or mental health or condition of you, or any other person, or;

• Where providing you with access would disclose information relating to or provided by a third person who had not consented to the disclosure. This exemption does not apply where that third person is a clinician involved in your care.

When making your request for access, it would be helpful if you could provide details of the time-periods and aspects of your health record you require (this is optional, but it may help save practice time and resources).

If you are using an authorised representative, you need to be aware that in doing so, they may gain access to all health records concerning you, which may not all be relevant. If this is a concern, you should inform your representative of what information you wish them to specifically request when they are applying for access.

GPs have ethical obligations around how patient records are shared, and can explain to patients, in broad terms, the implications of making a Subject Access Request so they can make an informed decision on whether they wish to exercise their rights under the Data Protection Act.
